

"I hope my success encourages others in the native community to strive for their goals too. I have received a high-quality education at the University of Saskatchewan and I encourage others to take advantage of the same opportunity."

The U of S has more students of Aboriginal ancestry than any other Canadian university.

First-year programs (Aboriginal First Year Experience, Math & Science Enrichment and Summer University Transition) offer support for Aboriginal Students to:

- Learn in a culturally sensitive and academically stimulating environment.
- Share a supportive and positive university experience with other Aboriginal students.

Spots are reserved for Aboriginal Students in the Colleges of Arts & Science, Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy & Nutrition, Physical Therapy and Veterinary Medicine.

Celebrating Aboriginal Achievement

Matthew Dunn
Graduate Student, Mechanical Engineering

Recipient of a $10,000 scholarship from the National Aboriginal Achievements Foundation
2005-2006 All Canadian U of S Huskie Athlete,
Second in Canada in the Pentathlon

explore.usask.ca
Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada